Project

Event Date Saturday, February 14, 2009

Description:

About 80-90 students from LH Tutorial will be taking a fieldtrip to the Science Center in Los Angeles. The students are age from kindergarten to high school. The tutors that work at the tutorial center will be the guides and caretakers for the day. Each tutor will have about 7-10 students per group (according to the age range). The day will first start off with lunch at the Science Center at 12:00 P.M. Then the students will explore the center. The day will end with an IMAX movie and the students will arrive back at LH Tutorial around 6 P.M.
